Welcome

Welcome to Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd, one of the world's most experienced companies specialising in printing banknotes, travel and security documents. This brochure offers a brief insight into our corporate history and principles, and the technological developments that have made us a reliable partner for discerning customers.

Our corporate history

the basis of our innovative strength

Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd is one of the oldest printing houses in Switzerland. Founded as a printing works in Zürich in 1519, it ventured into the printing of security documents as early as 1826. Orell Füssli first printed banknotes for the Swiss National Bank in 1911, and Swiss passports in 1958. It has manufactured both ever since. In 1994, digital workflow, which helps ensure maximum precision and quality, was introduced into the design and manufacture of Swiss banknotes and other security documents.

Quality

a philosophy we live by

At Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd, quality is not just a catchword. It is the philosophy we live by. We believe that to serve our customers best, we must constantly strive for even higher quality – a goal that is supported by our ISO 9001:2000 and ISO 14001:2004 certification, and our well-defined internal quality assurance procedures, supported by European Foundation of Quality Management System.

Our organisation

to respond to all your needs

One of our prime objectives is to respond to all your needs not only competently, but also with a personal approach. We believe that a lean organisation, allowing close contact with our customers, is the best way to achieve this goal. Rapid internal communication makes sure that you quickly get the answer you want from your personal contact at Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd.

Our customers

a source of motivation

Quality-conscious customers come to Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd for high-quality products from a reliable partner. We are convinced that only demanding customers take us forward, because only they expect innovative solutions. An ongoing dialogue with them helps us generate new ideas, which can be translated into new and better products. That is why, for us at Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd, serving our customers and fulfilling their expectations is a constant source of motivation.

Our workforce

the foundation of your satisfaction

---

Identification with the company is one of the keys to success. With commitment, dedication and the will to deliver excellence, the employees of Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd play their part in achieving corporate goals. Their competence is based on a winning combination of years of experience and regular update training. Together with our long corporate history, this is the firm foundation on which Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd develops solutions to give you complete satisfaction.

Our products

«one-stop shopping» for your security documents

In order to respond to almost any requirement, Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd offers a wide range of security documents:

Banknotes, value transfer certificates and warranty certificates

It is almost a hundred years since the Swiss National Bank first entrusted Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd with the printing of the Swiss currency. These banknotes are considered to be among the most secure and sophisticated in the world, and their production calls for the utmost care and skill. We also manufacture currency for other countries, on both paper and polymer substrate.

The production of value transfer certificates and warranty certificates demands the same painstaking care. At Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd, customers looking for high-quality documents that provide maximum security against forgery are in good hands.

Identification and travel documents

In a globalised world, identification and travel documents such as passports, visa stickers and ID cards are becoming increasingly important. On the one hand they are like emissaries, reflecting the cultural heritage and values of their respective countries. On the other, they have to fulfil very high quality standards to allow quick verification of authenticity, as well as offering functional features for efficient processing, e.g. at border control points.

Thanks to expertise acquired over decades, Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd can offer a full range of such products.

Security is a main concern for us

Quality and efficiency thanks to modern equipment

Security a primary concern

Security is an issue on which Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd does not compromise under any circumstances. All the products made at our printing works are highly sensitive and of high value, thus requiring flawless security and audit control. To achieve this, a sophisticated system of monitored logistics, check and control mechanisms, well thought-out access rights to different areas, physical control barriers, security procedures and processes is in place, run by carefully selected and well trained employees.

Our security experts guarantee that this sophisticated security system works perfectly day and night, all year round, to make sure that the goods we produce for our customers are always under our very strict control.

Cutting-edge technology to stay ahead of the market

In order to deliver high quality, the latest technology is indispensable. At Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd, substantial investments in modern equipment are made every year. By tradition, we are pilot partners for a number of equipment manufacturers, installing and testing their latest innovations.

Our close links to equipment manufacturers help us to constantly improve our efficiency and quality, as well as to respond quickly and flexibly to all our customers' needs.

The environment

a responsibility we take seriously

At Orell Füssli Security Printing Ltd we believe it is our responsibility to take care of the environment we live in. We therefore endeavour to avoid pollution by using eco-friendly base materials, filtering emissions and recycling raw materials wherever possible. All our employees actively contribute in this process. Ever-better methods help us to use resources more economically and thus to reduce environmental impact.
